Key concepts

Overview

Before you start, you need to know what a legal entity is, how legal entities are identified, and the rule for confirming the active legal entity.

Legal entities

Term	Description
Legal entity	A company set up in D365. The pages you open show data for the active legal entity, so you must work in the legal entity that holds the customer accounts you need.
Business name	The name of the business a legal entity represents. Use the business name to identify the legal entity you need.
Ledger code	The code D365 uses for a legal entity. D365 ledger codes differ from CargoWise ledger codes.

Working in the correct legal entity

Rule	Description
Work with business names	Identify legal entities by their business names rather than their ledger codes.
Confirm before processing	Confirm the active legal entity before you perform any transaction.
